CSANZ Cardiac Devices Masterclass | 23 - 24 AUGUST | MELBOURNE

The Masterclass for implanters will be held on 23-24 August 2024.

The CSANZ Cardiac Devices Masterclass is an educational symposium run by the University of Melbourne Mobile Learning Unit in conjunction with CSANZ. The Masterclass sets out to improve patient outcomes for CIED patients in Australia and New Zealand by providing practical, independent, expert-level teaching; combining state-of-the-art didactic lectures with invaluable hands-on sessions.

The inaugural Masterclasses, one for clinicians/ device implanters and one for allied professionals and nurses, were held in 2023. Both sold out within weeks and feedback from delegates was overwhelmingly positive with 100% saying they would recommend to others and 89% saying they would book again in the future.

For 2024 the 2nd CSANZ Cardiac Devices Masterclass for Implanters will again combine talks by leading experts from Australasia with dedicated practical sessions. The overwhelming popularity of the practical session last year will be maintained and expanded in 2024 to include more simulator time and more hands-on surgical and anatomical teaching. The lecture-based sessions will have a specific focus on conduction system pacing as well as promoting evidence-based practice and exposing delegates to the practice of lead extraction. Again, there will be a dedicated half-day programming and practical session on Friday afternoon. This year's programme is almost completely new with virtually no overlap of sessions from last year.
